State Representative Vincent Candelora

At this point, many of you may have caught wind of Governor Malloy's announcement last week to use his power of executive order to request that the Department of Transportation (DOT) conduct a $10 million dollar feasibility study of implementing electronic tolls.

The legislature made it clear during the 2018 legislative session that we would not be moving forward with plans to study or place tolls throughout Connecticut. Unfortunately, the governor has decided to completely bypass the legislature and make a unilateral decision to study tolls.

To make matters worse, information on tolls was already collected and findings indicate that although tolls may assist Connecticut in paying for transportation infrastructure, it would do so at the expense of commuters and taxpayers.

In a statement released by the governor's office, he said: "During this past legislative session, we heard time and again from legislators that they wished for more information regarding electronic tolling, including specific recommendations with respect to its possible implementation."

Governor Malloy's statement could not be further from the truth, confirming what many of us have suspected for quite some time now – he is disconnected from his taxpayers and does not understand what his state wants or needs. This is just another example of the tax-and-spend mentality that has contributed to the financial crisis that we now find ourselves in. This state is drowning in debt, yet five months before his term is over Governor Malloy thinks it's a good idea to spend more taxpayer dollars. Simply put, this is a slap in the face.

According to the governor's executive order, DOT will conduct the following:

Prepare a comprehensive assessment for possible electronic tolling on I-95, I-91, I-84, the Wilbur Cross Parkway, the Merritt Parkway, and any other limited access highways as determined by the DOT Commissioner, which includes potential toll monitoring and specifies proposed toll charges;

Explore potential ways to provide discounts, tax credits, or other value-pricing options to Connecticut residents while ensuring out-of-state drivers contribute their fair share;

Explore plans that could reduce motor vehicle fuel taxes; and Study the environmental impacts of electronic tolling systems.

Although I understand the need to improve many of our roads, highways, bridges, and railroads, using tolls to generate these funds is not the answer. During the 2018 session, the legislature came together to adopt a budget that fully funds transportation projects as scheduled. Included in this budget was funding for the Special Transportation Fund (STF) resulting in $29 million to the STF in Fiscal Year 19, $120 in Fiscal Year 20, $204.8 in Fiscal Year 21, $275.7 in Fiscal Year 22, and $369.4 in Fiscal Year 23.

We need to spend less and prioritize the funds that we do have if we are going to get ourselves on fiscally solid ground. Instead of proposing studies that cost the state more money, Governor Malloy should be cutting costs. Asking the taxpayers of this state to shell out more money on a tolls study is going in the wrong direction. The people of this state cannot handle much more of this tax-and-spend mentality.

Let's Be "Frank"

I'm really getting tired of sending these letters. It seems like every week you're getting a new resident and we're losing one. By now you have probably set a place for our cousin Ronny. All though from East Haven Ronny was often seen at North Branford soccer and track meets to watch his grandson Alexander. Like any other grandparent he was proud of all his grandchildren and he seldom missed an opportunity to see them in action.

Years ago when his brothers and I bought an ill advised business, we gave Ronny the "opportunity to join us in this investment." Without hesitation he responded, "I'm investing in education (referring to his three kids)"

When I bought my first house (it was a fixer upper), Ronny spent two months working in the bathroom. In that time (with help from many family members) I finished the rest of the house. He was a bit slow and deliberate but every time someone came over to visit, they would always give their first compliments on how great the bathroom looked.

He was a great guy and great family man but to go further would do an injustice to the tremendous eulogy his grandson Alexander and his daughter Annemarie gave at the service. Enjoy his company even though he is a Red Sox fan.

Not much going on in town. The Potato Festival is this weekend so many of my restaurant and pizza places could take the three days off. But everything has its purpose and the people who work at this thing do a great service to our community so if you have any pull with the big guy let's get them some great weather.

My back is to the TV as I am sending this off and I am listening to interviews with all of the people running in primaries for Governor of Connecticut. It reminds me why I love politics so much. A bunch of guys trying to tell us they are the best candidates who ever lived. They are all talking about over spending, yet they are spending millions of dollars on ads. We are suppose to base our vote on which one we like best given the "facts they are giving us"

Most of the "facts" are promises that they will never keep. It's too bad there are no incumbents running. It would be nice to see a news team come out with a list of all the promises that were made during the campaign and all the one's they kept while in office. It's just a thought for next time we have an election with an incumbent.

North Branford is already asking people to think about running for office in the 2019 election.

I've been here for 30 years and no matter who wins it's always the same. It's time to start thinking about a new system of government in our town. It might be the only solution.

Take care and I'll see you soon.

“Have God in our Lives”

Dear Residents

As I watched the news about the soccer team trapped in the cave, I prayed to God to show a miracle. As the days unfolded, the rescue of the young boys and their coach started. We heard of the death of one of the divers, but the faith and strength of the rest kept them strong. As all the team was rescued, the world saw a miracle. My message: Have God live in our lives. God Bless.

Denise Garitta

“I was Impressed”

Dear Republican friends,

On August 14th, Connecticut will hold it’s primary election to choose the candidates that will be running for Governor this November. I wanted to take a moment to express my feelings to my fellow Republicans in our great town. I am supporting Mark Boughton, mayor of Danbury, in the upcoming Republican primary. This support is mine personally, and is not an official endorsement of the North Branford Republicans. I first met Mark in 2010, at a Tea Party organizational meeting. It was hardly a friendly environment for politicians who were considered moderate at the time, But I was impressed That a high profile politician, was willing to take time out of his busy schedule to learn of our concerns, listen to our grievances and give us his feedback. I was also impressed with Mark’s ability to engage, answer questions, and take points, in such an environment. He was unapologetically pragmatic, and engaged in what I’d consider to be spirited conversations on many issues. Since then, I have watched carefully Mark Boughton’s career. I believe that he has shown exceptional leader ship in Danberry, and as lead that city to be one of Connecticut’s bright spots in an otherwise underperforming State. Under his leadership Danberry has become a model of how Connecticut should be run. With a lower unemployment rate, a pro-business environment, lower taxes, and a more financially sound balance-sheet then the rest of Connecticut. I believe Mark Boughton outshines his competitors in this primary race, and has the ability and experience necessary to bring positive results to the citizens of Connecticut.

Sincerely,

Edward J. Boughton

PS: Yes we are distant relatives.

“I Shall not Forget, Come this November”

Dear Editor:

I am a Vietnam era vet (Captain, US Army Medical Service Corps). 39,471 of my military brothers and sisters are homeless, and those are only the ones we know about. Republicans have now officially financed Trump’s $30,000,000 parade.

Thirty million dollars could feed every one of those hungry homeless veterans for SIX MONTHS. So the Republicans, who say they love and respect our military, make Trump feel like a king for a day rather than help our Vets for six months.

I shall not forget come this Novemebr.

Sincerely,

Dr. Peter Rothenberg

ICE, ICE Baby

On June 18th the LA Times reported that “migrant youths covered the dirty concrete floors of the Border Patrol holding cells... sprawled shoulder to shoulder and draped in grubby Red Cross blankets, enveloped in a haze of sweat and body odor.” After an 1800-mile journey across Mexico, children were “corralled behind chain-link fences topped with razor wire, huddling for warmth on plastic mats under flimsy metallic Mylar blankets.” But wait, the LA Times reported this on June 18, 2014!

Thousands of children were held in these horrible conditions under Obama’s watch?! And - its not ICE that separates families and puts children in cages at the border - its the Border Patrol? And wait, children were subjected to these conditions throughout Obama’s second term? What made people scream about abolishing ICE and riot in the streets against the Trump administration about this?

First and foremost, lets understand what ICE really does. It has two functions: (1) investigate Homeland Security stuff and; (2) catch smugglers and dangerous people. ICE enforces our immigration and customs laws. The Border Patrol deals with migrants because they don’t have legal status in the US; ICE deals with people who smuggle illegal stuff and immigrants when they are deemed dangerous, not juveniles. So, claiming that ICE separates families is like a drug dealer complaining that his arrest interferes with his family life.

The reality is that few noticed or reported these appalling conditions during the Obama administration. Border camp conditions markedly improved by the time accusations were levied against the Trump Administration, to the point where kids were effectively being placed in summer camps with play areas, schools and organic food.

We also know and recognize that some very bad people are “child trafficking.” They bring juveniles across the border to use in the illegal sex trade and who knows what else. Some of these kids don’t belong with the people who brought them, so it should take at least a while to identify the legitimate “families.”

The point is that the corporate media has misdirected our attention at ICE and whipped us into inane and frenzied protests against Trump about horrible things done by Obama’s Border Patrol. The explanation for these media distortions is obvious - political ideology tries to rule our reality. The corporate media paints a picture it wants us to see at someone’s behest. The 2014 LA Times article was a fleeting bubble of information that vanished without notice. Now, four years after “reporting” the deplorable conditions in Border Patrol holding cells, the LA Times sprays a constant “narrative” of accusations against Trump and ICE that washes away that 2014 reality. Repeat a narrative enough and it can indeed “change our history.”

Please, everyone, do your homework, dig for the truth and resist the temptation to accept what comes to you so easily from the mainstream narrative.

Town of North Branford Fire Department Executive Summary of Activity FY 17-18

The North Branford Fire Department responded to 1,814 call for service in Fiscal Year 2017-18. The number of emergency medical incidents during this period was 1,393 representing 76.79% of the fire departments alarms. A summary of incident types is captured below.

Incident Type	Number	Percentage
Fire	33	1.81%
Overpressure/Rupture	2	.11%
Rescue & EMS	1,393	76.79%
Hazardous Condition	83	4.57%
Service Call	95	5.23%
Good Intent	74	4.02%
False Alarm & False Call	132	7.27%
Severe Weather	2	.11%
Total	1,814	100%

During this period there were (11) fires in private dwellings, (1) in a school, (2) in storage structures, (1) vehicle fire, (2) non-structure/non-vehicle, (7) wildland/brush and (3) confined to rubbish/dumpsters. The total loss from building fires was $441,000. Considering the property loss from all fires ($458,500) and total value of property ($14,747,000), the total saved equaled ($14,288,500) or 96.89%. The average on-scene time by members for building fires was 2 hours and 34 minutes. When considering the value of any fire department, one must focus on the dollar value saved and lost which is directly related to suppression activities. Our community have very effective fire prevention and inspection programs which are carried out by a part-time Fire Marshal and Deputy Fire Marshal. Property owners that should be proud of our accomplishments.

The North Branford Fire Department provided or received mutual aid from the following departments during FY 2017-18: Branford (2), East Haven (12), Guilford (1), North Haven (6), Wallingford (22), and Durham (14). Mutual aid covers fire and EMS response.

8th Hammonasset Festival Returns to Guilford in September

This year’s Hammonasset Festival honors Native American heritage and nature with a special focus on Children and Families: We Are All Connected.

Madison, CT, July 1, 2018 -- The Hammonasset Festival returns to the Guilford Fairgrounds this fall for two days of celebration, education and entertainment. Honoring the environment and Native American traditions, the 8th Festival will take place on Saturday, September 29, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sunday, September 30, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

“We’ve listened to feedback about ways to enhance the experience and educational value of the Festival,” says Barbara Hanson, Festival Chair, “and we chose Children and Families: We Are All Connected as this year’s theme to complement the celebration. Children and families are at the heart of all cultures, they are the beginning and the future.”

“The gift of knowledge provided by the elders and passed down through generations of family and community is a time-honored tradition of Native American peoples”, says Darlene Kascak (Schaghticoke), Education Coordinator at The Institute for American Indian Studies. “It teaches us how to live in balance with all living things, leading us to a deeper respect for each other, ourselves and our environment.” “It is knowing that we are all connected”, adds Ms. Hanson.

Each day begins with a Native American blessing and smudging ceremony, led by Allan Saunders (Mohegan). There will be multiple appearances by our featured performers:

Erin Meeches (Schaghticoke) and the Native Nations Dance Troupe. The Native American dancers will gather in the Dance Circle to share their dances and interpretations, dressed in traditional regalia and accompanied by live singing and drumming of a Native drum group.

The Chankas of Peru who will once again share the amazing Scissors Dance, a traditional highland Andean ritual competition between two or more dancers. Each dancer will showcase his repertoire of acrobatics, gymnastics, aerial jumps, and intricate footwork.

Tchin (Narragansett), Native American storyteller, will make his Hammonasset Festival debut. Tchin is a nationally known performance artist and educator who, through the art of oral tradition, shares stories that have been passed down through generations and that will illuminate minds of all ages.

Music and song will be provided both days by Allan Madahbee (Ojibway) playing Native American flute and guitar. There will also be performances by Scott Shuffitt, playing Native American-style flutes, with Todd Secki on drum. Around the grounds, under tents and in the Butterly Building you will find an array of vendors and traders, exhibitors and educators. There will be live wildlife shows, an expanded children’s area, the ever-popular New England Atlatl Championship, and a variety of food choices.

“Come join us as we celebrate the importance of children and families”, Ms. Hanson concludes. “And how the knowledge that we are all connected can nurture hope and gratitude and strengthen our responsibilities to one another and our environment.”

Admission: Adults, $5; children under 12, free
Parking: Free on-site parking
Note: No pets or alcohol at the Fairgrounds; no ATM on premises
