Good Luck to a Good Friend

After forty years at the Post Office and sixteen serving the people of Northford, public servant Fred Martin will be retiring. When Fred was appointed to the Northford Post Office, he knew he found a home in both his public and social life, and moved to North Branford. Since then he has become familiar friend at the “window”. he has always been there ready to help his neighbors with their postal needs and share his concerns for their well being.

Although happy to be retiring, Fred will miss his friends. “I’ve made a lot of friends here and I’m going to miss the people I’ve served and worked with. When I came here, Caroline showed me the ropes and taught me the Northford procedures used to best serve our residents. For a long time it’s been the same crew as Joyce and Donna have been carriers here since I started.”

“The first thing I am going to do is turn off the alarm clock” Fred joked. “The only alarm clock I have will be my dog Katie. My wife is looking forward to me finally being able to do that “honey do list” and I’m looking forward to getting back on the golf course. I love fishing but haven’t been able to do much of it with my work schedule”.

“I’ll really miss everyone” he repeated. After talking to several customers on my way out the door, it’s obvious, they will surely miss him as well.

Landolfi to be Honored at Reunion

Long time community servant John Landolfi will be honored at a St. Patrick’s School Reunion on Sunday, October 2 at Anthony’s Oceanview in New Haven. Landolfi who made his First Communion and Confirmation at the Historical Church started out in the old Boardman trade school in the electrical department. In 1956 he transferred to the new Eli Whitney Technical School and was the first student to graduate from that school with a plumbing degree.

Wanting to serve his country he joined the National Guard where he was enlisted from 1958 to 1965. He joined the Plumbers and steamfitters union #349 in 1963 and was its secretary for six years. In 1980 he was elected

Business Manager of the Union and at the Governor’s request he served on several Boards including The Plumbers Licensing Board, The Steamfitters Board and the Apprenticeship Board.

Retiring in 1993 due to an injury, Landolfi could not sit still. He volunteered to coach for the North Branford Little League and didn’t stop there. He has served as the North Branford Police Commissioner for ten years, he is a member of the State Police Commission where he served a term as president. He also served close to ten years as the president of the North Branford Republican town committee.

He is proud of his current position as an entry level teacher at Eli Whitney. He teaches plumbing to socially and academically challenged students to put them back in the mainstream. He is also on the “Save the Bell Tower” committee at the Northford Congregational Church. “I’m Catholic but the Church is an Historical Landmark in our town and I saw a need”, commented Landolfi.

Also being honored at the Dinner will be William Iovanne Sr., State Representative Len Fasano and Retired Principal Pat Elia.

Tickets are $55 and can be purchased by calling; John Ragozzino at 203-815-4480, Richard Biondi at 203-671-5411, Sparky Mastriano at 203-239-0025 or John Fabrizio at 203-467-5468.

State Representative Vincent Candelora

A Success Story, Screening for ALD

In 2013, I sponsored legislation to require the screening of newborns for adrenoleukodystrophy (ALD). I will never forget my first visit with Dr. Jack and Jean Kelley of Branford. Their son suffers from ALD and its detection went unnoticed until it was too late to prevent the devastating symptoms. ALD affects the tissue lining around the adrenal glands and nerve cells. The disorder comes with different levels of severity with the most severe form causing very rapid degeneration of the nervous system in young boys. The trait is most common in boys and men, but women who are typically the carriers of the genes suffer as well. In the worst cases like Brian's, the disorder leads to loss of muscle function that permanently confines patients to wheelchairs.

Brian's case was discovered when he was 6 years old, after he had begun to show symptoms after a skiing accident. Since then the Kelleys have devoted their time as a voice and advocate for children with ALD through their foundation, Brian's Hope (www.brianshope.org). They found technology that quickly detects the problem at birth so that people born with ALD can live lives nearly symptom free with treatment. The Kelleys asked me to help get a law passed.

A group of legislators from the House and Senate embarked on that task and soon after, Public Act 13-242, An Act Concerning Newborn Screening for ALD, passed both chambers unanimously. It requires the state screening for ALD for every newborn. The Act was opposed by the insurance industry and the Department of Health. The Department did not want to spend the time and money screening for this disease despite the fact that it costs millions for education and healthcare for one child who becomes symptomatic.

After many meetings and a lot of advocacy, Connecticut became one of only two states to begin screening in January 2016. So far two baby boys have been saved from this heart wrenching disease and many baby girls have been diagnosed as carriers of the gene. Had these babies been born in any other state, their outcomes would have been different.

We had the pleasure of meeting those families with the Kelleys last month at a press conference to celebrate the success of this legislation. I was proud to be a primary supporter, but most importantly a witness to a government process where individuals can make a difference through their voices. The Kelleys have now moved their focus to encouraging more states to start this screening process, and they are spreading their hope nationwide.

Let's Be "Frank"

Well brother, it's been a few issues since we talked. A bunch of stuff has happened so I will try to cover it all.

Labor Day weekend we celebrated our 35th wedding anniversary. It was a great celebration as everyone had other things to do so the most active thing we did was to drive Frank to the train station. When people ask me how we did it for 35 years I always say 'We have to have a sense of humor. SueAnn's standard comment is "I ignore him". My philosophy is that with three kids, one grand child one on the way, and a mother in law, if we don't stick together they will take over the world as we know it. Quite frankly, I like the world as we know it.

Speaking of the bride, she's been going through some problems with her hip and back. I've been trying to tell her that all that walking is not good for her but no one ever listens to me. Trying to be healthy can make us unhealthy. Then again, who am I to give advice on being healthy.

Due to her situation I have had to take on some more household chores. I guess more household chores is misleading. Right now I do no household chores so anything would be more. For the first time in 35 years I was introduced to the laundry room. It brought me back to the first night of my honeymoon. I knew where it was but I didn't quite know my way around it.

I've been doing all this stuff for a week now and I don't know how my wife does it. I might even help a little when she is back on her feet. I hope she is to sick to read this comment or she might hold me to it.

I'll never forget when you first got married and you told our "very old school" father that you were vacuuming the rug. He made me drive him all the way to Hamden to your house) because he was convinced that for the "man" to vacuum the rug, your wife must have been very sick and you just didn't want to tell him. When we finally convinced him that she was fine, he wanted us to take your temperature. Boy how things have changed.

Speaking of doctors and sicknesses, I had my annual physical this week. I have a new doctor whom I've only met once. My first impression was he doesn't even shave yet. But after thinking about it for a while I realized that if the doctor is older than I am, he should be retired.

It seems as though the new wave of exams is all done on the computer. We went over all my blood tests and I was quite happy to hear that "separately" all my numbers are within the range they are suppose to be. That made me smile. But that wasn't the end of it.

Young "Doogie Hauser" then went on to explain that the AMA has a new thing where they throw all you numbers in the pot (blood pressure, weight, kidney functions, liver functions, yada yada, yada) and it appears that collectively the numbers together indicate that within the next ten years I have a 25% chance of having a heart attack or stroke.

"Doogie" was amazed that I greeted this information with complete joy. "Let me do the math to see if I have this right" I asked him. "Basically, there is a 75% chance I do not have a heart attack or stroke in the next ten years. If I do, there is a fifty/fifty chance that I live through it. That means there is about an 85% chance I live past 70. Considering when I was forty they told me I probably would not make 50, I think my odds are pretty good," I explained.

Someone commented that with an attitude like that I will live to 90. "Ninety." I replied. "Why does everyone sell me short. I'm really gonna have a great time at my 100th birthday party. Too bad none of these naysayers will be around to celebrate with me.

Well take care and I'll see you soon. Hoefully, not too soon.

Annual Fundraiser to cure Friedreich's Ataxia

Branford, CT—Join the Caruso/Bode family once again for an evening of fun, food and fundraising for the cause of finding a cure for Friedreich's Ataxia from 5- p.m. on Oct. 14 at the Owenego Beach and Tennis Club, 40

Linden Ave.

There will be appetizers, a Texas barbecue dinner and a cash bar and a raffle. Billy T and The Extra Special Guests will provide live music and this year guests might even have a private reading by internationally known psychic Jeff McBride. Comedian and magician John Cap will entertain guests throughout the evening.

Tickets are $50.00 and can be purchased by calling Rose – 203-640-4045, Raeline – 203-246-8820 or Mary – 203-889-6484

Friedreich's Ataxia is a life shortening, progressive and devastating disease. It robs people of their ability to walk, talk and use their hands appropriately. It causes heart disease, diabetes, hearing loss and blindness. At the time Sam and Alex Bode were diagnosed as young children, the disease was considered so rare that no research was being done.

However, Mary has been relentless in forming communities of families affected by the disease, they have banded together and all moved forward raising awareness and research dollars. Guided by the Friedreich's Ataxia Research Alliance scientists and researchers from all over the world are brought together and funded to do top notch research racing for a cure. In the last twenty years, so many strides have been made that recently scientists have announced they are hopeful that a cure can be found. In 1995 when Sam was first diagnosed, there was very little hope or even knowledge of the disease. Today is different, today brings tremendous hope and awareness to the importance of living life to it's fullest despite the obstacles of FA. Work done on potential through gene therapy is the newest hope, this years funds will be earmarked for potential trials within 2017.

There is also new hope to restore eye sight, which has been the most recent loss for both Sam and Alex. Caruso states "these are the losses that really hit home as both Sam and Alex have recently had to stop riding their hand trikes outside the home. This was one activity they both enjoyed so much, to watch them lose the few activities they enjoy is so difficult."

Not only do these annual fundraising events bring about an awareness of the disease and raise money to speed the research along, but they also bring together a wide community of people who care, with everyone welcome. It's an uplifting evening filled with the spirit of friendship and kindness and love, emphasizing the dignity and respect for all people. "Our annual fundraiser keeps Sam and I optimistic and really feeling supported, we really enjoy these events" states Alex Bode.

For more information or for tickets in advance, please call the numbers listed above.

The Friedreich's Ataxia Research Alliance is a national, public, 501(c) (3) nonprofit, tax-exempt organization. See more information at www.curefa.org.

WIT & WISDOM

With the horrendous increase in the involuntary suicides on opioids perhaps it is time I relate my experiences with Percoset. Several years ago the pain I suffered in my right leg, hip and lower back became so severe I had to seek relief. An artificial hip needing a new joint, aggravated by my snapping off my femur, that large bone from the hip to the knee, through which the shaft holding the ball in the joint created a situation the surgeons weren't able to repair sufficiently to give me pain free mobility.

My doctor prescribed Percoset. Immediately my son warned me I would suffer stomach sickness as he did from Percoset. This was also related to me by two nurses treating my wife, saying they had barely swallowed the pill when they had to rush to the sink to regurgitate it so potent was it. Fortunately I had no such reaction. In fact it's pain diminishing ability was almost totally lacking.

First prescribed 4 pills a day, later reduced to 2, when the recent hysteria of it's potency became more publicized. Let me assure you Dr. Ringstad, my primary physician, is reluctant to over prescribe and seeks every possibility to avoid it's use. I had previously tried every over the counter pain medication without results. I read of those using it to commit suicide so potent is it. It's potency is so lacking in me I took 4 once at one time without any more relief than a glass of water. I now feel a slight diminishing of the severe pain, but no other reaction. I don't want to encourage anyone to use Percoset or any opiate. My make up is most unusual so don't expect the same results. By the same token I can stop it at any time for any length without any craving which I often do.

My failure to get any measureable relief from Percoset turned my seeking relief with Marijuana in another wasted venture. Reading of it's help in epilepsy I thought maybe it's the answer to my equilibrium. Going from finally resorting to a cane to a walker I sought the authorization from the State to seek it's use. A visit with the doctor, who also met with Dr. Ringstad, resulting in they determining that I would be the oldest "Pot Smoker" in Connecticut and probably the entire nation. Immediately the thought of signing a huge contract with the dispensers showing the nation's, maybe even the World's oldest pot smoker, sitting in idealistic comfort on his patio smoking Pot. It was not to be. Like all my other dreams of riches it too came for naught.

They started me off smoking a pencil thin, artificial device on which I drew through until smoke was generated and I inhaled a few breaths. Experiencing no help whatsoever the potency of the smoke was increased with no better results. Finally, resorting to a pill, what I was told was most potent I was quickly becoming aware my fortune was fading and my pain no better. In fact it increased the severity of my equilibrium as my grandchildren had predicted. They watched my venture with much glee hoping to see a grandfather living in an idealistic high for ever more. But it was not to be. In one final effort I went whole hog and smoked a pipe full of the best most potent, pure unadulterated weed available. I was not only less stable, but totally void of any pleasurable sensation.

I don't want to discourage anyone from trying Marijuana. I saw or I should say, my son saw, since he picked up my prescriptions at the dispensary, many receiving life saving relief. A fellow we met when arranging the strict procedure required to be accepted into the program a fellow so severely injured in a motorcycle accident he was considered dead when transported to the hospital now living a gainful life.

I'm a physical pain enigma doomed to suffer till "death do us part" Maybe I'll give Ginger a try.

Oh yes, my trip to the Dispensary wasn't totally wasted. I told the photographer who took the needed photo for my application to save it since it will probably be my Obituary one. Nothing like a little macabre humor to end an article.

North Branford starts the year on the right track!

In late August, the Connecticut State Department of Education released the CT Smarter Balanced (CT SB) Assessment scores from the 2015-2016 school year. The CT SB scores, as well as the 2015-2016 Connecticut Science CAPT and CMT scores, provided validation for the changes and efforts that the North Branford School District, its administration, staff and students, implemented this past year.

Elementary grades 3-8 took the CT Smarter Balanced Assessment and grades 5, 8 and 10 also partook in the Connecticut Science CAPT and CMT exams. Overall, across grades 3-8, an average of 60 % of NB students met or exceeded English language arts achievement level expectations, representing an improvement in the percent of students reaching that level of success by 10% as compared to the 2014-2015 base-line CT Smarter Balanced Assessments. Similarly, across grades 3-8, the percent of students meeting or exceeding Math achievement level expectations improved by 9.3% from 2015 to 47.6%.

After 2014-2015 standardized test scores indicated a strong foundation at the elementary level, grades 3-5, and provided a catalyst for improvement at the intermediate level, grades 6-8, North Branford's administration, teachers and students set out to improve achievement across all grades and all subjects. The district embarked on several expansive initiatives to ensure the success of all students. For example, school schedules were adjusted, to allow for more core area contact time and greater support of students at various levels of development and achievement. A new benchmarking system was also implemented, to allow for more accurate data-driven decisions while providing students with more experience testing in a digital environment. These efforts combined with improvements to curriculum and instruction, including establishing K-5 literacy and numeracy coaches, incorporating a well-known research-based phonics program, Foundations, providing professional development in the CT Core and Next Generation Science Standards and best practices in instruction, and the continuous revisions to units of study, proved effective. North Branford outpaced state growth, achieving nearly three times the state's average growth in English language arts and mathematics and experiencing science achievement at the highest level it has been in recent years for grades 5 and 8 and the strongest it has ever been in grade 10!

Totoket Valley Elementary School students continued to show a solid foundation in all three tested areas. North Branford Intermediate School's grade level performance improved dramatically as compared to last year's less than exemplary scores. The percent of students meeting or exceeding state expectations in ELA improved by 15.5%, 14.1% and 20.2 % for grades 6, 7 and 8 respectively. Grades 6, 7 and 8 also showed improvement in mathematics, with percentage point growth of 9%, 9% and 14% respectively.

Mrs. Tracy Wootton, Director of Curriculum and Instruction, gave a presentation on the results to the Board of Education at the September meeting Thursday night. The presentation is available on the district's website.

Administration and staff will use the results of the 2015-2016 assessments to analyze the effectiveness of current initiatives, establish goals for the year and inform instruction as they move forward to support each child in reaching their potential. Fueled by the continued dedication of administration and staff, the district believes it can sustain the gains made in achievement and holds even higher expectations for its students in the years to come!

Little Leaguers go to the State Championship Game

The 12U Little League Girls All Star softball team had a great post season winning the District 4 and the Section 1 titles. The girls then traveled to Simsbury to compete in States where they came in second in the state of Connecticut.

The team was composed of 11 girls who were all an integral part of the team. Six of the girls played their last Little League game competing for the State Title, and unfortunately have concluded their time representing North Branford at the Little League level. But all of the girls enjoy competing and representing their town..

The names of the girls on the team are: Lauren Ackerman, Sophia Anastasio, Maissa Caso, Mia Deloughery, Gianna Depino, Bella Hills, Kelli Jacobson, Jada Miconi, Sophia Ouellet, Erica Piercy, and Hanna Senerchia. The head coach was Russell Senerchia, and he was assisted by Chris Piercy and Chris Hills.

Girls Volleyball Team gets New Coach

Cera Orner, a high school English teacher at North Branford High School has been named first year coach for the Girl’s Volleyball team. Cera is originally from Pennsylvania where she played volleyball in high school and eventually attended Quinnipiac University in 2010. She spent four years as a scholar athlete and senior captain on the Quinnipiac Acrobatics and Tumbling Team and graduated in 2014 with a Bachelor in English and in 2015 with a Master in Secondary Education.

She started in the North Branford school system last year, working at North Branford Intermediate School as an 8th grade Language Arts teacher. This year she was transferred to the high school and is “Very excited to be working at the high school level, and beyond grateful to have the opportunity to be coaching the North Branford High School Volleyball Team this season. I hope to develop athletes skills by pushing them in everyday practice while challenging them to do their best both on the court and in the classroom,” she added.

She has been joined this year by assistant coach Jake Sweet. Jake has been a full time teacher at North Branford High School for the past three years and has been the head coach of the school’s Ultimate Frisbee team for five years.

At press time, the team was 1 - 3 with a 3-0 win over Creed. They have been led by Alexa Gallo and Patience Wilson.

“Jabs” Leads Football Team to First Victory

Junior quarterback Jeff Jablonski got the T-Birds off to a good start with 93 passing yards and 63 rushing yards to eke out a 21-20 victory over Sports and Medical Sciences Academy.

Jablonski completed an 18 yard touchdown to Sydney Franklin to start the scoring, but the Academy came back with two scores to take a 12 - 7 lead in the first quarter. With no scoring in the second quarter North Branford made in 14-12 in the third with a 3 yard run by freshman Charles Walcott. The Academy quickly came back in the fourth with another touchdown and then a two point conversion to go up 20-14. The T-Birds did not quit as Jablonski drove them back down the field and sophomore Nick Mancini rushed one in from the 5. Antonio Sarmento was good on all three extra points to secure the victory.

Junior Sydney Franklin had 56 yards on 2 receptions and Mancini had 52 yards rushing yards and was joined by his sophomore classmate Lou Raffone who added 20 yards on just four carries.

Mancini was tenacious on both sides of the ball as he lead the defense with 8 tackles and 3 assists. Sophomore RJ Sobask had 6 tackles and 2 assists and senior Matt Sibley had 5 tackles and 4 assists. Justin Augur had 1 sack.

Lacrosse wins Three in a Row after Losing First

North Branford started the season with confidence from their 7 strong seniors. With the help of a strong middle school team led by coaches Kathy Galdenzi and Danielle Pannone, the team grew in numbers from 24 last year to 41 this year. Seniors include: Syd Hogan, a veteran 4 year varsity starter and first team All State player should continue to bring scoring to the table and for a while teammates Mackenzie Kaiser and Elissa Nuzzo will be golden in the net! Tara Lauro is a solid presence on the left mid position along with Stephanie Seymour flanking the right side. Cara Sagnella will add to scoring from her inside right position on the line.

Opening on Friday the 9th with rival Haddam Killingworth: During a short 8 minute period, the Cougars took advantage of the T-Birds in a 3-0 scoring barrage. However, the Lady T-Birds regrouped and put pressure on their opponents, outshooting them 9 to 1. Junior Emmy Norton scored NB’s lone goal. The loss, helped the team to see where they needed to bring it up for the rest of the season. So, on the following day, the team brought their “A” game as they hosted Waterford. They were much more focused and determined to win every possession. The results were stellar as 28 players played in a 8-0 victory. Scorers for NB include senior Syd Hogan with her first hat trick of the season along with sophomore Angelina Ramada with another hat trick! This was her first varsity goal. Emmy Norton chipped in 2 goals while teammates Danielle Ramada, Emilie Wilkinson, Syd Hogan, Cara Sagnella, and Emmy Norton had assists.

Next up the ladies hosted Morgan on the 15th when Syd Hogan captured her 2nd hat trick of the season along with her left wing, Emmy Norton tipping in the 4th goal. Assists were made by sophomore Amy Raucci and Emmy Norton. Mackenzie Kaiser held onto her 2nd shut out of the season. Freshman Ava Galdenzi showed a strong presence on the field.

On Friday, the following night, it was time to travel down I-95 to play East Lyme under the lights on their turf field. North Branford proved to themselves that we are a team with great promise. Passing, scoring, defense, and overall intense pressure was evident in every minute of the game. Emmy Norton opened the scoring with a double assist from Cara Sagnella and Meredith Johnson. Sophomore Amy Raucci topped in her first varsity goal of her career. While Emmy topped in a second goal and senior Syd Hogan scored on a penalty stroke after she was taken down by their goalkeeper. Syd added another security goal with 3:32 left to play. Mackenzie Kaiser made 4 strong saves in net while freshmen Melanie Norton’s midfield play was stellar with her ability to deny our opponents any opportunities to bring the ball down the field.

North Branford Land Conservation Trust, Incorporated

It's About the Land

Although the North Branford Land Conservation Trust, Inc. was founded in 1968, the organization experienced a period of relative dormancy from the late 1970's through 2010. Membership in NBLCT had declined to just a few individuals, kept alive by its president, Edmund Pantani, and four others. After Ed Pantani died, I received a call asking if I would help resuscitate the organization. I met with the four and together a plan was formulated with the object of drawing in more residents of the town who would be active participants in NBLCT. After much procrastination, I wrote a short piece which was published in the Totoket Times about how the NBLCT came to be and called attention to the fact that the organization met on the first Wednesday of each month at the Atwater Library. Forgetting that I had written the article, and almost forgetting (my wife had to remind me) that we had a meeting one Wednesday evening approaching 6 years ago, pulling into the library parking lot I was surprised at the number of cars. Thinking that I had forgotten to reserve the community room and another organization had taken it, that initial thought was mistaken when to my astonishment, it was a turn-out for a land trust meeting.

Since that time NBLCT has grown as an organization. It continues to hold meetings which are open to the public the first Wednesday of each month at the Atwater Library. It has an active land stewardship committee headed by a professional forester, an investment committee to manage NBLCT's financial resources, and other committees which are formed to address various issues coming before the board of directors. The land stewardship committee's volunteers monitor and mark the boundaries of its 53 parcels comprising 231 acres of land. The investment committee monitors the performance of NBLCT's investments while ad hoc committees organize public events sponsored or co-sponsored by NBLCT working with the town's recreation department in scheduling and leading hikes on trails on NBLCT property, town parkland and land of the Regional Water Authority.

In the very near future NBLCT will receive two parcels of land along the Farm River. One is 26+ acres in Northford and the other is 1.26 acres in North Branford on the east side of the Farm River off Mill Road. Both parcels are portions of larger tracts which were subdivided into residential building lots. Pursuant to planning and zoning regulations, about 10% of the subdivided land area must be kept as open space. Members of the land trust's directors were actively involved in negotiating the location, terms and conditions of the transfer of the open space land to NBLCT.

Now we have reached a plateau. We have about 67 memberships, which include individual or family memberships. Of the 67 memberships, we have about 15 people who volunteer their time serving on the board of directors and/or as officers of the corporation, or who serve on various committees. We have gained some new members while others have fallen out. So, dear reader, you guessed right; this is a call for new members, new blood, fresh ideas, and a renewed sense of urgency for the protection of this town's open land. We want you as a member. We want you as an active participant in all that we do.

We hope to see you at one of our meetings and/or hikes. There will be announcements published in the Totoket Times of the date, time and location of the family hikes and other NBLCT events. So keep an eye out.
